WE HAD A FIGHT LAST NIGHT.

I GUESS SHE'S STILL MAD.

I WOKE UP TO FIND SHE'D WRITTEN A SAPPY LOVE NOTE

TO MY BOOT SECTOR.

OPERATING SYSTEM NOT FOUND

And she put sweet nothings in all my .conf files. It'll take me forever to get X working again.

THERE'S A CERTAIN TYPE OF BRAIN THAT'S EASILY DISABLED.

IF YOU SHOW IT AN INTERESTING PROBLEM, IT INVOLUNTARILY DROPS EVERYTHING ELSE TO WORK ON IT.

THIS HAS LED ME TO INVENT A NEW SPORT: NERD SNIPING.

SEE THAT PHYSICIST CROSSING THE ROAD?

HEY!

On this infinite grid of ideal one-ohm resistors, what's the equivalent resistance between the two marked nodes?
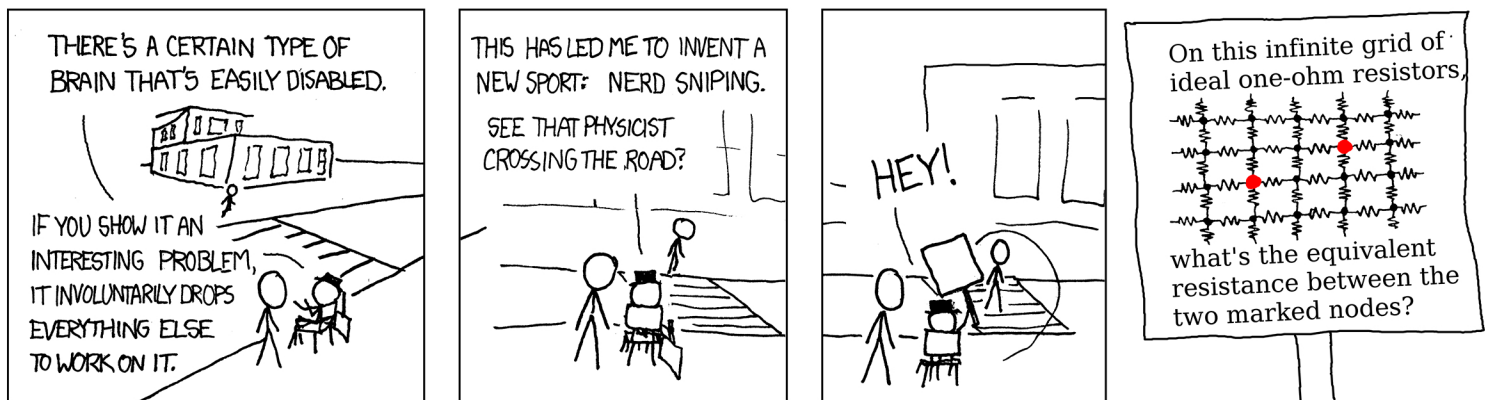

I first saw this problem on a Google Labs Aptitude Test. A professor and I filled a blackboard without getting anywhere. Have fun.

IT'S... HMM. INTERESTING. MAYBE IF YOU START WITH... NO, WAIT. HMM...YOU COULD—

FOOOOM

I WILL HAVE NO PART IN THIS.

C'MON, MAKE A SIGN. IT'S FUN! PHYSICISTS ARE TWO POINTS, MATHEMATICIANS THREE.
